Employment Training Panel Awards Approximately 10.6 Million To Train California Workers

SACRAMENTO – The California Labor and Workforce Development Agency’s Employment Training Panel (ETP) awarded approximately 10.6 million in job training funds to improve the skills of California workers for quality positions in both large and small businesses in sectors including green technology, bio-technology, healthcare, manufacturing, telecommunications, construction and agriculture.

Due to the high demand for ETP job training funds, the Panel’s contract approvals today resulted in the depletion of the program’s 2008/09 fiscal year job-training funds, requiring ETP to cancel the April and May 2009 Panel meetings. However, ETP will continue to accept and process funding proposals on an ongoing basis, and the Panel will is currently scheduled to reconvene in June to consider applications for funding in the 2009/10 fiscal year.

The 89 projects approved by the Panel this month are representative of a wide-range of industries seeking to enhance workers’ skills. For example, Franklin Career College was awarded a contract to train unemployed individuals, Technical Heaters, Inc., of Los Angeles, received funds to retrain their workers, Wellpoint, Inc., dba Blue Cross of California, will train healthcare workers throughout the state, and a small business in Calaveras County, Albert White Company, Inc., received funds to train one of their two employees.

“The large demand for ETP job-training funds is an indication that California employers are placing great importance on worker training in order to maintain their viability during the current economic downturn,” said Brian McMahon, ETP’s Executive Director. “ETP is committed to stepping up its statewide outreach to large and small employers, as well as forging partnerships with industry associations, chambers of commerce, and local governmental agencies serving displaced workers, in an effort to assist employers, incumbent workers, and displaced workers through these hard economic times.”

ETP is a business and labor supported state agency that assists employers in strengthening their competitive edge by providing funds to partially off-set the costs of job skills training that is necessary to maintain high-performance workplaces. California’s ETP is a performance-based program, providing funds for trainees who successfully complete approved training programs and are retained in well-paying jobs for a specific period of time.

The program is funded by the Employment Training Tax paid by California employers, and targets firms threatened by out-of-state and international competition. Since its inception in 1983, the ETP program has provided over $1 billion to train more than 800,000 workers in over 70,000 California companies. Employers match training funds awarded through ETP contracts, making these projects true public-private partnerships.
